ABOUT EL PASOANS.

Morton Oliver, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. George Oliver, is convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever.

The Hill Summit

(By Rosett.)

I told her the old, old story,
I told it as well as I could,
And though it was aged and hoary,
She thought it was wondrously good.
Years passed. One morning she told it
In all its rare beauty to me;
In whisperings soft she unrolled it,
With blushes, rare visions to see.
And strange, though the years had not changed it,
Though sweet as in seasons of yore,
It seemed from the way she arranged it
As though I'd never heard it before.

WEDDINGS.

A pretty home wedding, celebrated Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, was that of Miss Alice Estelle Woodside and George Foster Priggs. Only a few intimate friends of the young people witnessed the ceremony, at which Rev. Henry Easter officiated.

A green and white color scheme was attractively developed in the decorations, with quantities of white carnations and ferns.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a beautiful creation of white crepe de chine, made over silk, and elaborately trimmed with lace.

Following the ceremony a delightful wedding dinner was served to the bridal party.

The marriage is the culmination of a romance, beginning several years ago in Nashville, Tenn., where Miss Woodside was attending the Nashville university, and Mr. Priggs was a student of the Vanderbilt university.

Miss Woodside finished at the university last year, taking her A. B. degree in June.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Woodside of this city, and though she has been absent the last few years, she has here many friends.

The groom belongs to a prominent family of Henderson, Ky.

The young couple left Wednesday evening for New Orleans, and after a short stay there will go on to Henderson, Ky., where they will be at home to their friends after October 1.

A very attractive wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at St. Clement's Episcopal church, when Mrs. Eileen Windsor Syme and R. B. Alves were married.

A large number of friends were in attendance at the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. G. H. Higgins.

As Mrs. W. D. Great played the Mendelssohn wedding march the bride entered the church with her brother, G. P. Windsor, who gave her in marriage. They were followed by the bride's niece, Little Gertrude Windsor Smith.

The groom, with his best man, Frederick Woodworth, awaited the bride at the altar.

The bride wore a very handsome gown of ecru lace, made over silk, and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and ferns.

After the ceremony the wedding party and a few intimate friends returned to the home of the bride's mother, on Olive street, where the wedding cake was cut and refreshments served.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout with a profusion of bride's roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. E. Windsor, and a sister of Mrs. A. H. Snyder and Mrs. D. B. Smith. She has lived in El Paso most of her life and her charming personality has won for her a wide circle of friends.

The groom, who has been in El Paso several years, is a young business man of the city and is well known here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alves left Thursday evening for New Orleans, St. Louis, and various points in Kentucky. Upon their return they will occupy their new home, which is in readiness for them at 1011 California street.

The bride belongs to an influential family of New York. She is the daughter of the late Judge Acker, who was a prominent lawyer of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. McNary are expected to arrive in El Paso the last of the week, coming by the water route to Galveston. They will visit Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McNary and Mrs. H. T. Bowie for a short time before going to their home at Berlin, N. M., where Mr. McNary is engaged in ranching.

Misses Lorena and Mary Holt will leave Monday for Las Vegas, N. M., where they will participate in the wedding of Miss Anna Ward of that city to their brother, Edward B. Holt of the El Paso Bridge and Iron company.

The marriage of Miss Ray Bellman of this city to Eli Paul Krupp, of Safford, Ariz., will take place Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Krupp.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony, after which the young people will leave on the 10 o'clock train for their future home in Safford, Ariz.

The bride has made many friends during her short residence here. The groom is engaged in the mercantile business at Safford, Ariz.

was summoned to the door where she was met by little Julia Schuster pushing a prettily decorated go-cart in which were piled the numerous gifts.

After this the guests entered the dining room which was decorated in red and white. In the center of the table rested a large oblong reflector banked with ferns, while from the chandelier hung wedding bells and numbers of red hearts. A delicious salad course was served.

Among the guests present were: Misses Julia Angerstein, Leigh Angerstein, Leonie Schlemmer, Mamie Hintze, Martha Gault, Frieda Schlemmer, Johanna Ronkamp, Lenore DeLacey, Katherine Hiesler, Julia Schuster, June Riggs, Florence Evans, Ethel Langford, Lydia Schubert, Emma Dede, Mae Kuneman and Ella Barrett; Messdames St. Morris, Angerstein, Kuneman and Hammond.

MILLINERY AT ONE PRICE

We are having a whole lot of trouble with customers who ask us to reduce our prices on millinery and seem surprised when we will not do it. We wish to state publicly that this is a strictly one-price millinery store. We figure a legitimate profit and mark each hat at the lowest possible price it could be sold for and under no circumstances will this price be cut. We do not deem it fair, just because we might possibly make more profit on one person than on another, to have a sliding scale of prices, so, when you come here for your millinery you will always find the best, also you will find everything marked in plain figures and those figures are the prices.

Popular-Priced Millinery Special Display Next Week

In addition to our magnificent display of exclusive millinery, we feature for next week a line of popular priced millinery. We state confidently that our display the coming week will be larger, by far, than any similar line shown in El Paso.

Prices Range $2.95 to $10.00

"How Lovely"

It is a Gift from Feldman's

It seems strange that people will keep on following long established customs in the matter of wedding gifts and continue to load the bride with cut glass, silver, et cetera, et cetera. It is just as easy to give something original and something that the bride can remember who gave it to her.

A Feldman Gift is Individual

There are dozens and dozens of suitable wedding gifts in our Art Shop.

A picture, whether it be a dainty miniature or a famous print handsomely framed, is always appreciated.

Statuary, such as shown here, reflects good taste in the giver.

Pottery holds a place second to none. In fact, a few minutes in our Art Shop will show you a surprisingly large number of suitable wedding gifts that are "different."
